"Governments have come and governments have gone while Dr. Skelton stayed on as under-secretary, serving loyally premiers of different political opinion. Reliance was placed upon his good judgment and extensive knowledge of foreign affairs and constitutional questions by Mr. Bennett as well as Mr. King. In the determination of Canada's attitude toward the United States and the world Dr. Skelton has given service of the greatest value. His wide knowledge of international questions, his judicial temperament and his unassailable integrity provide him with some of the most essential qualifications."—T. Star.

Of his "Three Measures of Meal" it is said:

"The broad-mindedness and vast learning of this little book should make it acceptable to the theologians of every colour and stripe. Prof. Vial has treated opposing views with fairness and courtesy (which Christian apologists have not always done); and at the same time he has set forth his own views with great cogency and quiet force. Ministers will study his book with delight and profit, while the layman of a philosophic turn of mind will get a great deal of first rate instruction, and will be charmed with the author's tolerance and good sense."—S. N.

"Canadian WHO WAS WHO"

1875 - 1933

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF: SIR CHARLES G. D. ROBERTS, M.A., LL.D., F.R.S.C.

MANAGING EDITOR: A. L. TUNNELL

A STANDARD DICTIONARY OF NATIONAL BIOGRAPHY

The first volume of the series, published in 1934 contained more than four hundred biographies of those who died in the period, 1875-1933. Volume II will be published early in 1937, continuing to deal with the same time cycle. Subsequent volumes are to follow until the work is completed, so that there will be available a comprehensive biography of Canadians and those significant to Canada, whose achievements deserve rescue from oblivion. Biographies of persons who died since 1875 are being written first to enable the editors to avail themselves, while it is still possible to do so, of contemporary memoirs relating chiefly to those subjects born in the thirties to the sixties of the last century. A primary list of names for inclusion has been widely publicized, and its amplification has proceeded on the basis of sound authority. For each Worthy the editor has had to choose a competent biographer. These contributor-writers number about one hundred. The selection of names which follows illustrates both their eminence and their versatility:
